

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

DEBORAH WENNING and ANDRES CORREA,

Plaintiffs,

-against-

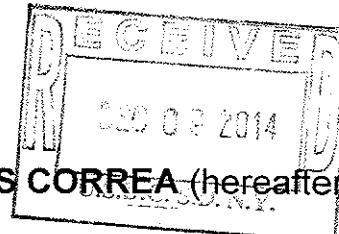

ON-SITE MANAGER, INC.,

Defendant.

Docket No.

14 CV 09693

The plaintiffs DEBORAH WENNING and ANDRES CORREA (hereafter

"Ms. Wenning" and "Mr. Correa" and, collectively, the "plaintiffs") by their attorneys, Fishman & Mallon, LLP, as and for their complaint against the defendant ON-SITE MANAGER, INC. (hereafter the "defendant" or "On-Site") allege, upon information and belief, except those allegations which directly relate to plaintiffs themselves, which are alleged upon personal knowledge, as follows:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. This is an action for actual, statutory and punitive damages and statutory attorney's fees brought pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681, et seq. ("Fair Credit Reporting Act" or "FCRA") and for actual and punitive damages and injunctive relief and statutory attorney's fees brought pursuant to the New York Fair Credit Reporting Act [General Business Law ("GBL") Art. 25 § 380, et seq.] ("NYFCRA") and the New York Deceptive Practices Act, GBL Art. 22-A, § 349.

2. On-Site is engaged in the business of preparing and issuing consumer reports for landlords, managing agents and other customers of its products, with the intent that those reports be used by its customers in making residential renting determinations.

3. On-Site engages in its business nationally and its reports contain information about lawsuits filed by landlords seeking to evict residential tenants throughout the country.

4. On-Site operates in New York City where it prepares and issues consumer reports for its New York City customers, consisting primarily of residential landlords, building managers and rental agents who subscribe to its services. (New York City customers")

5. On-Site's New York City business includes the preparation and issuance of consumer reports which contain information about holdover and non-payment of rent proceedings filed, inter alia, in the New York City Housing Court ("Housing Court") by landlords against residential tenants.

6. Such reports are issued to, and are intended to be used by, On-Site's New York City customers in connection with the application by consumers to rent residential apartments in New York City.

7. On-Site issues thousands of such reports each year.

8. It is On-Site's policy and routine practice to describe such holdover proceedings in its reports, regardless of the factual or statutory basis of such proceedings, as "FORCIBLE ENTRY/ DETAINER" proceedings. (emphasis original)

9. Such description is inaccurate, and is instead entirely deceptive and misleading in that "forcible entry and detainer" proceedings are not recognized by, and cannot be brought in, the Housing Court, except in very limited circumstances not applicable here.

10. On-Site uses the term “forcible entry and detainer” to describe holdover proceedings brought in the Housing Court because it homogenizes its data and uses it on a national business model, rather than one that accurately and more precisely describes such cases in New York City.

11. On-Site’s use of the term “forcible entry and detainer” in consumer reports it prepared and sold to New York City landlords, and continues to sell to New York City landlords, caused harm to the plaintiffs, and continues to cause harm to consumers generally, because it falsely suggests that they engaged in aggressive, violent or otherwise illegal conduct.

12. In reality, neither plaintiff engaged in any such conduct and the proceedings commenced against them by their former landlords in the Housing Court did not allege any such conduct.

13. In fact, both plaintiffs settled their landlord’s claims against them before such proceedings were even filed, without admitting any fault or wrongdoing.

14. In addition, both plaintiffs voluntarily vacated their apartments in compliance with the agreements they made with their landlords and they were not forcibly evicted.

15. On-Site chose not to discover any of these facts about the plaintiffs’ Housing Court cases before preparing and issuing consumer reports about them.

16. On-Site does not obtain any information directly from the Housing Court about the cases it includes in consumer reports. Instead, On-Site purchases highly synthesized electronic data, in bulk form, from one or more other data companies.

17. Despite having no direct contact with the Housing Court, On-Site prominently claims, in its consumer reports, that the information contained in them "is accurately copied from public records..." (emphasis added)

18. As a result of On-Site's failure to view actual court files, or take any steps to learn the actual nature and disposition of the Housing Court cases it includes in its consumer reports prepared for landlords, those reports are incomplete, inaccurate and misleading in material respects, all in violation of the FCRA and the NYFCRA.

19. Such reports caused actual harm to the plaintiffs and continues to cause actual harm to thousands of other New York City consumers.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS PERTAINING TO DEBORAH WENNING

26. In or about 2005 Ms. Wenning rented the premises 208 East 82nd Street, Apt. 31, NY, NY. Ms. Wenning’s tenancy at that apartment was subject to the New York Rent Stabilization Law.

27. On or about November 2010 Ms. Wenning’s landlord elected not to renew her lease for the apartment upon the ground that it did not believe she was residing in it as her primary residence.

28. Ms. Wenning determined that she could not afford to fight an eviction proceeding not yet commenced by her landlord so she retained counsel in order to negotiate a surrender of the apartment.

29. On February 28, 2011, simultaneously with the commencement of a holdover proceeding against her in the Housing Court, Ms. Wenning entered a written agreement in which she agreed to voluntarily vacate the apartment on a date certain in the future, and, in exchange, her landlord agreed to waive a portion of her rent. (Holdover Petition attached as Exhibit A)

30. In addition, the landlord agreed to name Ms. Wenning in the holdover proceeding only as “Jane Doe” in order to prevent her from becoming “blacklisted” as a result of the court filing.

31. The agreement also permitted the landlord to enter a possessory judgment against Ms. Wenning in order to enforce her obligation to vacate the apartment in the event she failed to vacate voluntarily.

32. Ms. Wenning fully and voluntarily vacated the apartment as agreed and the landlord did not become obligated to take any further steps to recover possession of the apartment.

33. In or about May 2014, Ms. Wenning was notified that her name had been selected to apply for a subsidized apartment in the West 45 Lottery and that she was eligible to apply to rent an apartment at 510-550 West 45th Street, NY, NY.

34. In connection with that application, on or about May 12, 2014, Common Ground, the agent for the 510-550 West 45th Street landlord obtained a multi-database report (the “Wenning report”) about Ms. Wenning from the defendant. (Attached as Exhibit B)

35. At the top of the report, the following statement appears:

This report does not guarantee the accuracy or truthfulness of the information as to the subject of the investigation, but only that it is accurately copied from public records..." (emphasis added)

36. The Wenning report included information about Ms. Wenning from a multi-state criminal records database, the National Sex Offender Registry, the OFAC SDN/Terrorist Watchlist, New York City Housing Court, and Experian.

37. The Wenning report stated that no records were found pertaining to Ms. Wenning from the criminal records database, the National Sex Offender Registry or the OFAC SDN/Terrorist Watchlist.

38. The information about Ms. Wenning in the Wenning report from Experian disclosed that all of her credit accounts were current and in "good standing." The report further stated that Ms. Wenning's "FICO" credit score was 816, which put her in the top 5% of credit scores nationally.

39. Under the heading "Housing Court Records", the Wenning report claimed that Ms. Wenning had been a "Defendant" in a case brought by 82ND STREET ASSOCIATES LLC, as "Plaintiff."

40. The Wenning report further stated that the "case type," highlighted in yellow, was "Forcible Entry/Detainer" and that a judgment was entered "for Plaintiff" on May 14, 2011.

41. Although the Wenning report has a space for "comments" it was blank.

42. On or about May 15, 2014, Ms. Wenning was advised, in writing, by Common Ground that her application for the apartment was rejected. The only reason given in the rejection letter was "Tenant/Landlord history: Housing Court record -April 2011- ‘Forcible Entry/Detainer.’” (Attached as Exhibit C)

43. As a result, Ms. Wenning was compelled to hire an attorney who was able to obtain an agreement from her former landlord to vacate the possessory judgment against her and discontinue that proceeding with prejudice. That agreement also contained a consent by the former landlord to the expungement of any information pertaining to the Housing Court proceeding from the database of any credit reporting agency.

44. Thereafter, Ms. Wenning’s attorney submitted the agreement to the defendant who agreed to expunge the case from its database and issue a new report to Common Ground.

45. Thereafter, Ms. Wenning was advised that her application for the apartment had been approved.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS PERTAINING TO ANDRES CORREA

46. In or about 2008 Mr. Correa entered into an agreement with Alexander and Gemma Sroczynski, the rent stabilized tenants of the premises 309 West 57th Street Apt. 1208 NY, NY, to sublet the apartment.

47. Mr. Sroczynski advised Mr. Correa that the landlord of the apartment consented to such sublet.

48. From the inception of the sublet Mr. Correa paid the agreed upon rent of $1400.00 each month to Mr. Sroczynski.

49. On or about January 3, 2012 Mr. Sroczynski’s landlord issued a “Notice to Cure,” followed by a “Notice of Termination,” him alleging that he was illegally subletting the apartment to Mr. Correa without its consent and threatening an eviction proceeding against them in the Housing Court.

50. Mr. Correa recognized that he did not have a basis to defend the eviction proceeding based on Mr. Sroczynski's illegal conduct and instead he retained counsel in order to negotiate his surrender of the apartment.

51. Thereafter, the landlord commenced an illegal sublet holdover proceeding against Mr. Sroczynski in the Housing Court in which Mr. Correa was named as "Andres Doe, undertenant." (Holdover Petition Attached as Exhibit D)

52. On or about February 28, 2012, shortly after the commencement of the proceeding against Mr. Sroczynski and him, Mr. Correa entered a written agreement with the landlord in which he agreed to voluntarily vacate the apartment on a date certain. In addition, Mr. Correa agreed to pay the lawful rent stabilized rent for the apartment until he vacated.

53. The agreement also permitted the landlord to enter a possessory judgment against Mr. Correa.

54. Mr. Correa vacated the apartment and the landlord did not become obligated to take any further steps to recover possession of the apartment.

55. In or about March 2013, Mr. Correa submitted applications to rent an apartment in a building owned by Prince George Limited Partnership. ("PGLP")

56. In connection with that application the defendant prepared a multi-data base consumer report (the "Correa report") about Mr. Correa and provided it to PGLP. (Attached as Exhibit E is a copy of the Correa report prepared by the defendant in connection with the plaintiff's application to rent from Prince George)

57. At the top of the Correa report, the following statement appears:

This report does not guarantee the accuracy or truthfulness of the information as to the subject of the investigation, but only that it is accurately copied from public records..." (emphasis added)

58. The Correa report included information about Mr. Correa from a search of a multi-state criminal records database, the National Sex Offender Registry, the OFAC SDN/Terrorist Watchlist, Housing Court, and Experian.

59. The Correa report stated that no records were found pertaining to Mr. Correa from the criminal records database, the National Sex Offender Registry or the OFAC SDN/Terrorist Watchlist.

60. The information about Mr. Correa in the Correa report from Experian disclosed that all of his credit accounts were either current and in "good standing" or closed at his request. The Correa report further stated that Mr. Correa's "FICO" credit score was 760, which put him in the top 10% of credit scores nationally.

61. Under the heading "Housing Court Records", the Correa report claimed that Mr. Correa had been a "Defendant" in a case brought by 309 Realty LLC as "Plaintiff."

62. The report further stated that the "case type" was "FORCIBLE ENTRY/DETAINER" and that a judgment was entered "for Plaintiff" on March 30, 2012.

63. Although the report has a space for "comments" it was blank.

64. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Correa received a “NOTICE OF ADVERSE ACTION” from PGLP advising him that his application for the apartment was rejected based upon information contained in a report prepared by the defendant. (Attached as Exhibit F)

65. The notice was prepared from a template created for its customers by the defendant.

66. The notice stated,

(W)e also evaluated your application with a proprietary credit score, called a “rental score,” and used it in making our decision. The score was calculated by taking information found in your consumer report and applying it to our leasing criteria....

Your rental score: 1

Scores range from a low of 0 to a high of 10

67. The “rental score” is a mechanism created by the defendant and provided to its landlord subscribers.

68. Every adverse action notice created by the defendant for use by its customers includes a “rental score” of 1 on a scale of 1 to 10 where the applicant was previously named in a Housing Court proceeding, regardless of its nature or outcome.

69. The notice further stated, “(Y)our report includes a landlord tenant court record or you owe money to a previous landlord.”

70. The notice further stated that the defendant “played no part in our decision and is unable to supply specific reasons why we have denied credit to you.”

71. Such statement is false, deceptive and misleading because the defendant's business model automatically recommends to its customers that they reject any applicant who was named in a previous Housing Court proceeding, regardless of its outcome or nature.

72. As a result of the defendant's report and the subsequent rejection of his application, Mr. Correa was compelled to hire an attorney who was able to obtain an agreement from the landlord in the Housing Court proceeding to vacate the possessory judgment against him and discontinue the proceeding against him, with prejudice.

73. That agreement also contained a consent by the former landlord to the expungement of any information pertaining to the Housing Court proceeding from the database of any credit reporting agency.

74. Thereafter, Mr. Correa's attorney submitted the agreement to the defendant who agreed to expunge the case from its database.

AS AND FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION:
Failure to Assure Maximum Possible Accuracy in Preparing Consumer Reports, in Violation of 15 USC § 1681e(b)

75. The plaintiffs repeat and reallege each allegation above as if fully set forth here.

76. 15 USC §1681e(b) provides, in pertinent part:

Whenever a consumer reporting agency prepares a consumer report it shall follow reasonable procedures to assure maximum possible accuracy of the information concerning the individual about whom the report relates.

77. The defendant prepared consumer reports about each of the plaintiffs and provided those reports to their prospective landlords in connection with the plaintiffs' respective applications to rent residential housing.

78. The reports contained false, deceptive, misleading and/or incomplete information about the plaintiffs, as follows:

- a. The reports falsely state that each of the plaintiffs had been sued in a "Forcible Entry/Detainer" action, when in reality, they were sued in "holdover" proceedings;
- b. The reports falsely imply that the plaintiffs' former landlords sued them for engaging in illegal, aggressive and/or violent conduct;
- c. The reports falsely stated that the information about the plaintiffs was "accurately copied from public records" when in fact it was copied from information supplied by a private third party and the defendant never reviewed any public records before issuing the reports;
- d. The reports falsely describe the plaintiffs as "defendant[s]" and their respective former landlords as "plaintiff[s]" in the court cases contained in the reports, when, in reality, such terms are not used in summary holdover proceedings brought in the New York City Housing Court and instead such parties are referred to as "Petitioner" and "Respondent";
- e. The reports fail to include the significant fact that each of the plaintiffs consented to vacate their respective apartments before their respective landlords commenced the proceedings;
- f. The reports fail to include the significant fact that each of the plaintiffs consented to the possessory judgment in the proceedings without admitting any fault or lease violation;
- g. The reports fail to state that each of the plaintiffs complied with their obligations in the proceedings and vacated their respective apartments without the need for their landlords to have them evicted;
- h. The reports fail to state that the judgments issued in the proceedings were possessory only and did not require the payment of any money by either plaintiff;
- i. The reports falsely imply that the plaintiffs were actually evicted from their apartment by their previous landlords.

79. In addition, the adverse action notice created by the defendant falsely and deceptively stated that the defendant had a “rental score” of 1, based solely on the presence of the housing court proceeding.

80. As a result of the defendant’s conduct and actions, as set forth above, the plaintiffs suffered actual damage, including, but not necessarily limited to, the following:

- a. The denial of an application for a rental of a residential apartment;
- b. Embarrassment, humiliation, anguish, distress and anxiety;
- c. Legal fees in an effort to undo the harm caused by the defendant.

81. As previously set forth herein, when preparing consumer reports, including those of plaintiffs, On-Site has lacked, and today continues to lack, any reasonable procedures to assure the maximum possible accuracy of the information concerning the individuals about whom the reports relate.

Accordingly, On-Site’s conduct has violated, and continues to violate, 15 U.S.C. §1681e(b).

82. On-Site’s failure to comply with 15 U.S.C. § 1681e(b) has been intentional and willful, or, at the very least, negligent.

83. As set forth hereinbefore, as a result of On-Site’s violation of 15 U.S.C. §1681e(b), the plaintiffs have been economically harmed to their detriment, and they are entitled to recover actual damages, in an amount to be determined by the trier of fact, statutory damages in an amount not less than $100 or more than $1,000 pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n, as well as the further relief set forth below.

84. In order to punish such conduct by On-Site, and to deter it and others from engaging in similar practices hereafter, plaintiffs are entitled to an award of punitive damages, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1681n, in an amount to be determined by the trier of fact, as well as the other relief as set forth below.

85. In addition, the plaintiffs are entitled an award of statutory attorney's fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1681n and/or §1681o.

AS AND FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION: Violation of the NYFCRA,
General Business Law §§ 380-j and 380-k

86. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each allegation set forth in paragraphs 1-53, above, as if fully set forth herein.

87. GBL § 380-j(a) provides that:

No consumer reporting agency shall report or maintain in the file on a consumer, information:

(3) which it has reason to know is inaccurate.

88. GBL § 380-j(e) provides:

Whenever a consumer reporting agency prepares a consumer report it shall follow reasonable procedures to assure maximum possible accuracy of the information concerning the individual about whom the report relates.

89. GBL § 380-k provides:

Every consumer or reporting agency shall maintain reasonable procedures designed to avoid violations of sections three hundred eighty-b and three hundred eighty-j of this article....

90. As previously set forth herein, On-Site knew, or reasonably should have known, and today knows or reasonably should know, that its reports regarding New York City Housing Court proceedings are materially inaccurate, false, deceptive, incomplete and misleading, for the reasons set forth above. Accordingly, On-Site=s activities have violated, and continue to violate, GBL " 380-j(a) and 380-k.

91. In addition, for the reasons previously set forth herein, when preparing consumer reports, including those of plaintiffs, On-Site has lacked, and today continues to lack, any reasonable procedures to assure the maximum possible accuracy of the information concerning the individuals about whom the reports relate. Accordingly, On-Site's activities have violated, and today continue to violate, GBL " 380-j(e) and 380-k.

92. In addition, On-Site violated NY GBL § 380-g by failing to notify either plaintiff that it had reported public record information about them and/or by failing to maintain reasonable procedures designed to insure that whenever public record information is reported it is complete and up to date and by failing to update such public record information on a regular basis.

93. As a result of its knowledge of its responsibilities under the NYFCRA, On-Site's failure to comply with its requirements as to the plaintiffs has been intentional and willful, or, at the very least, negligent.

94. As set forth hereinbefore, as a result of On-Site's violation of GBL §§ 380-g, 380-j and 380-k, the plaintiffs have been economically harmed to their detriment, and they are entitled to an award of actual damages in an amount to be determined by the trier of fact pursuant to GBL § 380-l and/or 380-m, as well as other the relief set forth below.

95. On-Site's continuing and ongoing failure to comply with GBL §§ 380-g, 380-j and 380-k will, unless restrained and enjoined, cause the plaintiffs harm in the future and, accordingly, they are entitled to a permanent injunction barring the defendant from issuing consumer reports about them which:

- a. falsely state that they, or either of them had been sued in a "Forcible Entry/Detainer" proceeding;
- b. falsely state or implies that they, or either of them was sued by a landlord for engaging in illegal, aggressive and/or violent conduct;
- c. fail to accurately state that they, or either of them consented to the relief sought in the court case brought against them;
- d. fail to accurately state that they, or either or them, complied with their obligations in the resolution of the court case brought against them;
- e. fail to accurately state the judgment issued in the court case was possessory only and did not require the payment of any money by them, or either of them;
- f. falsely imply that they, or either of them, were actually evicted from their apartment by their previous landlord;
- g. falsely state or suggest that the public record information in the report was accurately copied from public records; and
- h. fail to accurately and completely state the nature of the Housing Court proceeding commenced against them.

96. In order to punish such conduct by On-Site, and to deter it and others from engaging in similar practices hereafter, plaintiffs are entitled to an award of punitive damages, pursuant to GBL § 380-l, in an amount to be determined by the trier of fact, as well as the other relief as set forth below.

97. The plaintiffs are entitled to an award of statutory attorney's fees pursuant to GBL § 380-l.

AS AND FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION: Violation of New York General Business Law § 349

98. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each allegation set forth in paragraphs above, as if fully set forth herein.

99. GBL § 349 bars “[d]eceptive acts or practices in the conduct of any business, trade or commerce or in the furnishing of any service in this state.”

100. GBL § 349 provides that “any person who has been injured by reason of any violation of [their respective] section[s] may bring an action in his own name to enjoin such unlawful act or practice” as well as to obtain actual damages, or fifty dollars, whichever is greater.

101. As set forth hereinbefore, On-Site has engaged in deceptive acts and practices within the meaning of GBL§ 349, namely, by making information available for sale to the public, as a credit reporting agency, which is incomplete, inaccurate and misleading, while, at the same time, falsely representing to the public that the information in its reports is “accurately copied from public records.”

102. In addition, On-Site’s “rental score” mechanism, is deceptively created and designed to produce a score of 1 on a scale of 1 to 10 for every applicant previously named in a Housing Court proceeding regardless of its nature or outcome and regardless of the applicant’s credit worthiness.

103. On-Site's conduct and practices, as set forth above, are directed at New York consumers generally.

104. As a consequence of deceptive business practices, On-Site has caused both consumer injury and harm to the plaintiffs, as set forth herein, as well as to the public interest.

105. As set forth hereinbefore, by reason of On-Site's violation of GBL § 349, the plaintiffs have been economically injured to their detriment, and are entitled either to actual damages, in an amount to be shown according to proof, or to damages in amount of $50 pursuant to GBL § 349(h), whichever is greater, as well as the other relief set forth below.

106. On-Site's continuing and ongoing failure to comply with GBL §349 will, unless restrained and enjoined, cause similar harm to other consumers and, accordingly, plaintiffs, acting as "Private Attorney's General," are entitled to a permanent injunction barring the defendant from issuing consumer reports which include information about a proceeding brought in the Housing Court pertaining to a New York resident which:

- a. falsely state that any tenant was sued in a "Forcible Entry/Detainer" proceeding;
- b. falsely state or imply that any tenant was sued by a landlord for engaging in illegal, aggressive and/or violent conduct;
- c. fail to accurately state whether the tenant named in the report consented to the relief sought in the court case brought against him or her;
- d. fail to accurately state whether any tenant named in the report complied with their obligations in the resolution of the court case brought against him or her;

- e. fail to accurately state that any judgment issued in the court case set forth in any consumer report was possessory only and did not require the payment of any money by the tenant;
- f. falsely imply that any tenant was actually evicted from their apartment by a previous landlord;
- g. falsely state or suggest that the public record information in any consumer report was accurately copied from public records; and
- h. fail to accurately and completely state the nature of the Housing Court proceeding commenced against the tenant named in the report.

107. In addition, the plaintiffs are entitled to a permanent injunction barring the defendant from employing a “rental score” which falsely and deceptively claims that applicants have a score of 1 on a scale of 1 to 10 solely because they were named in a previous Housing Court proceeding, regardless of its nature or outcome.

108. In addition, the plaintiffs are entitled an award of statutory attorney’s fees pursuant to GBL § 349(h).

WHEREFORE, the plaintiffs demand judgment against the defendant as follows:

- a) An award of actual, statutory and punitive damages and statutory attorney’s fees and costs on the First Cause of Action; and
- b) An award of actual and punitive damages and statutory attorneys fees and costs and a permanent injunction on the Second Cause of Action; and

- c) An award of actual and statutory damages, a permanent injunction and statutory attorney's fees and costs on the Third Cause of Action; and
- d) Such other relief as may be just and proper.

June 13, 2014

Dear Andres Correa:

Thank you for your application for rental housing at 14 East 28th Street, New York, NY 10016 (Prince George).

1. We are unable to offer you a lease on the terms that you requested based on information contained in a consumer report prepared by the consumer reporting agency listed in paragraph 2 of this notice. Unfortunately, we must deny your application at this time.
2. Our decision on your application was based in whole or in part on information obtained in a consumer report from On-Site.com, which you may contact by visiting www.renterrelations.com, call toll-free at (877) 222-0384, or by mailing On-Site.com, care of Renter Relations at 307 Orchard City Dr., Ste. 110, Campbell, CA 95008. You have a right under the Fair Credit Reporting Act to know the information contained in your credit file at the consumer reporting agency. The reporting agency played no part in our decision and is unable to supply specific reasons why we have denied credit to you. You also have a right to a free copy of your report from the reporting agency, if you request it no later than 60 days after you receive this notice. In addition, if you find that any information contained in the report you receive is inaccurate or incomplete, you have the right to dispute the matter with the reporting agency, and to put into your report a consumer statement of up to 100 words explaining your position on the items under dispute. Trained personnel are available to help prepare consumer statements.
3. We also evaluated your application with a proprietary credit score, called a "rental score," and used it in making our decision. The score was calculated by taking information found in your consumer report and applying it to our leasing criteria. Your rental score can change, depending on how the information in your consumer report changes.

Your rental score: 1 Date: June 11, 2014

Scores range from a low of 0 to a high of 10.

Key factors that adversely affected your rental score are:

- Your report includes a landlord tenant court record or you owe money to a previous landlord.

4. If you have any questions regarding your score, you should contact Renter Relations at On-Site.com by visiting www.renterrelations.com or at the contact information listed above.
5. You should know that the federal Equal Credit Opportunity Act prohibits creditors, such as ourselves, from discriminating against credit applicants on the basis of their race, color, religion, national origin, sex, marital status, age (provided the applicant has the capacity to enter into a binding contract), because they receive income from a public assistance program, or because they may have exercised their rights under the Consumer Credit Protection Act. If you believe that there has been discrimination in handling your application you should contact the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau by going to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore, call toll-free at (855) 411-2372, or write to Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, P.O. Box 4503, Iowa City, Iowa 52244.
